

Ms. Bahman presents her compliments to the Maroness de Stampé. It begs to offer her sincere thanks for her kind note, at the same time, regretting, that having already made several appointments, she is, at present, unable to avail herself of of the Maroness' obliging permission to fix a day for having the pleasure of again accompanying her, to the Studios of the Painters, which however she hopes to enjoy ere long.

Mr. Mathman intends to have the honor of calling upon the Baroness, in the course of a few days, if nothing unforeseen occur.
